MESSAGE:

Congratulations on your new son! I am sure he will be a very special, loved and adored little boy. I envy your decision to take on his special needs when in this society people are so willing to give up life so easy. I have been blessed with 3 healthy children of my own and I would hope that we would have as much courage as you and your family. Take care, I will not wish you good luck, because I believe you and your family are going to do a great job with Trig.

The Skipper's.
