Subject: Pics at mansion

Tib- anyone know when the king air has to return from servicing? I assume it has to fly thru Anchorage? If so, maybe that's a good way to get my family down here for First Family events incl the official family photos (which a year later we still haven't done), the mansion Christmas photo shoot (Erika's on it - she'll put wreaths on the door or fireplace and we'll call it good... Maybe outdoor shot with wreath on exterior), the Alaska Magazine photos with family in Juneau, etc. Otherwise, we need commercial reservations soon.

The sooner the better on the christmas pics! My kids are getting busier than ever and it will be impossible to have everyone together if it's not in the next couple of weeks - just for the day is good enough. Do you want Kris to help me on this one?

Todd- what date's good for you? I can take the kids out of school if need be. Either king air or commercial...
