I think she's willing for National Review, Boston Herald, and Novak. However, when these things come to fruition I need the contact info for the specific folks who will interview so I can pass it on to our communications department and they can set something up. When you get me the names and deadlines, I'll set them up with Roseann Hughes and Sharon Leighow, our great press folks.

And, thanks so much for your help!! Think we can get something on your blog today?

Sure. I have sent it to some friends to get them to post.

Is she willing to do National Review?

Holly,

Do you think you could help shed some light on this issue? We're trying to get this out to as many websites, blogs, organizations as possible.

Thanks,

Ivy

Friends,

As you know, Lyda Green killed two abortion bills in the Senate a few weeks ago when she refused to allow the full Senate to vote on whether or not to waive it from the Senate Judiciary Committee. Lyda has voted in favor of pro-life/ anti-abortion legislation since being elected in 1994. It's very disappointing she would set her personal beliefs aside, as well as those of the majority of her constituents, to favor "protocol."

Now, Lyda wants to derail the gasline special session by expanding the call to include more bills because of her lack of leadership and inaction during regular session. It's absolutely unacceptable Lyda favors the will of her bi-partisan caucus over the will of her constituents.

Governor Palin yesterday outlined her willingness to consider a separate special session to include the abortion bills Lyda killed in the Senate; however we ALL must join Gov Palin in calling on Lyda to show Alaskans a path to success.

Governor Palin wholeheartedly believes the abortion bills are important enough to be handled independently, outside oil and gas deliberations. As we all know, Gov Palin is pro-life and has never once wavered in her belief in the sanctity of every human life.

I'm humbly asking each of you to get on the Alaska Politics blog and counter some of the nasty, hateful, heartless and inaccurate comments that are on there. Also, if you can encourage anyone in your own email distribution lists to get on the blogs. We need to spread the word that Gov Palin is effectively and efficiently doing everything she can to build a gasline AND support important abortion legislation.

Also, if you could write letters to the editor showing support for our governor it would be appreciated. I've attached the letter she sent to Lyda Green, as well as our media advisory that went
