FYI, from Halcro's website at the bottom of this email. Just wanted to give you a heads-up in case it is brought up today; didn't want anyone to get blindsided since Tina learned of this from Senator Green's office. Sharon is aware and between her and Tina, we'll take care of it.

Tina/All-

This is really getting out-of-hand. Something needs to be done to call him on this. He should not be allowed to defame people with outright lies. If it's not corrected, then people that read it will not know otherwise. I'm copying Sharon Leighow in on this. Sharon, bet he didn't call you to verify information like you asked him too.

And, as Kristan already answered the CC legal counsel is still working for the corporation.

As usual his facts are all wrong. He got your name right and that was about it.

Kris

I was quietly plugging away on trying to finish my outline regarding the dissolution process when Ginger from Senator Green's office called and told me to take a look at Halcro's Blog. This is what it says:

FLASH: Assistant Attorney General quits due to activity at Mat Maid

We received the following two emails less than thirty minutes apart this morning regarding a breaking situation with Governor Palin's Creamery Board.
Received at 10:43am

Just an FYI on the Mat Maid situation. Tina Otto, Assistant Attorney General who has been handling all the new Creamery Board affairs is resigning. She had been trying to keep the 5 Palin hand picked board members "coloring inside the lines" but is quitting because this bunch is running wild and doing things illegally. She does not want to get trapped by their wrongdoings after she has warned them that what they are doing is illegal. How many people fired or quitting will it take for this administration to realize her board is full of conflict of interest and law breaking? Is there no oversight at all?

I think I still have a job. ☺ Beyond that, I, of course, don't represent the Creamery Board. Did the CC board make a decision to find new counsel? I can't even imagine
